

Master's Programme GLOBAL STUDIES – A EUROPEAN PERSPECTIVE

The application round for the 2023 intake is now open!

Topic and mobility track:

The Master's course in "Global Studies – A European Perspective" trains students to look at processes of globalisation in different academic ways. It combines approaches from Global History and International Studies. Cultural Studies, Area Studies, Social Sciences and other disciplines contribute to a wide-ranging academic programme.

The two-year Master's course in "Global Studies – A European Perspective" is offered by five European universities, namely: Ghent University (Belgium), Leipzig University (Germany), University of Roskilde (Denmark), University of Vienna (Austria) and University of Wroclaw (Poland) and nine further partner universities: Addis Ababa University (Ethiopia), Dalhousie University (Canada), Fudan University (China), Jawaharlal Nehru University (India), Macquarie University (Australia), Otago University (New Zealand), University of California at Santa Barbara (USA), University of Stellenbosch (South Africa) and the University of Yaoundé I (Cameroon).

Students study for one year at one of the European partner institutions, and for the second year at a different European university. Additionally, there is the possibility to spend one semester at one of the non-European partner universities.

Application requirements:

The Master in 'Global Studies' aims at excellent students with a first degree in social sciences and humanities and with an interest in global processes. The minimum application requirements are: a BA degree (to be completed by August 2023) or a recognised equivalent from an accredited institution and excellent written and oral command of English and basic knowledge of a further foreign language.

Application:

The application is online. For information on how to apply, please consult the following website:
